

Book Presentation: Economics of Electricity. Markets, Competition and Rules

By Anna Cretì and Fulvio Fontini

Cambridge University Press

January 10th, 2020

Edison Palace, Foro Buonaparte 31, Milan

14.45 – 15.00: Welcome greetings: Maria Elena Fumagalli, (Regulatory Affairs Director, Edison, Italy)

15.00 – 15.10: Introduction by the authors: Fulvio Fontini (Department of Economics & Management, University of Padua, Italy) & Anna Cretì (Climate Economics Chair, Université Paris Dauphine, Paris, France)

15.10 – 15.30: Economics of Electricity: at the crossroad between Academia and Regulators. The point of view of Jean Michel Glachant (Robert Schuman Chair, Florence School of Regulation, European University Institute, Florence)

15.30 – 15.50: Economics of Electricity: Is it worthwhile studying it? Elena M. Fumagalli (Copernicus Institute of Sustainable Development, Utrecht University, Utrecht, The Netherlands)

15.50 – 16.10: Economics of Electricity: Do the experts still have something to learn about it? Matteo Di Castelnuovo (SDA Bocconi, Bocconi University, Milan, Italy)

16.10 – 16.30: Economics of Electricity: Do market operators really need a textbook about it? (Elisa Scarpa, Head of Market Analysis, Structuring & Pricing, Edison, Milan, Italy)

16.30 – 17.30: Roundtable discussion with the authors: Is the economics of electricity what really matters for electricity? Massimo Bello (President, AIGET), Michele Governatori (President, EER), Salvatore Pinto (Chairman, Axpo Italia)

Informal seminar organised by the Edison Regulation Project/Osservatorio R & AIGET

Participation is free of charge, subject to prior registration at: Registration form